Greetings From Robbie.

I hope those of you who might have come for the January Meeting will understand that we had an emergency at home and are not allowed to use the Hanson office without Jan being there. She was hospitalized on Tuesday and couldn't attend the meeting. She's fine now and we will be there to greet you in February. Thanks for your understanding.

Robbie and Jan.

Word is that Robbie is bringing a monitor for the raffle prize.... Can't never have too many monitors guys!!

Non Meeting & Stuff

The January meeting was as exciting as any meeting could be, considering the meeting had to be cancelled at the last minute. Although there was an attempt to contact everybody about the cancellation there were a couple of members that showed up at the closed meeting site anyway.

the red ink they have acquired this past year. As I am intending to set up another computer latter this year it is very important that they stick around to keep the prices down.

Talking about prices I had to buy a 64 Meg memory DIMM this week and it cost almost as much as I paid for 128 Megs just a few months back. Maybe AMD will start making memory chips also.

The reason for the last minute cancellation was supposedly the sudden illness of the Presidents intended. (Actually maybe it was because the President was afraid to show his funny face after the crooked raffle of the December meeting.)

One thing we learned was we did not have a current email address for all the members. If you did not receive an email notification of the meeting cancellation see to it that you give your current address to the secretary. For those, and there were a couple, that did not read their email before the meeting I don't think there is much we can do for you. (G)

As of this point in time all is go for the next meeting so be sure and show up and help lynch the perpetrator of the last crooked raffle. The next Christmas party will have a solid gold ingot for a special prize. The person in charge will win it anyway so don't worry about it. (Anybody have any old fishing sinkers they don't need?)

Stuff

Not much in the way of stuff this month seems as everybody shot his or her wad over the holidays. One thing of note is the good news that AMD's last quarter financial report showed a nice profit for the first time in a year or so. I for one was worried that they would go under with all
